

Barbara Hatch, BFA
Director

Barbara has been teaching dance since 1973. Her career in dance education has inspired four decades of young people. Barbara began taking dance instruction at the age of five, and eventually earned her Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree in Dance, with a minor in Theatre, at Marygrove College.

Spurred by a vehement passion for dance at the young age of fifteen, Barbara created her own after-school dance programs at St. Mary's, Christ the King, St. Gabriel, and St. Bridgit grade schools. At age sixteen, Barbara made the big leap to New York City, where she studied at the Joffrey Ballet's City Center for the Performing Arts.

Despite being urged by her teachers to pursue a professional performance career, Barbara knew that teaching was her love. As a member of Dance Detroit, she performed with the DSO in Coppelia and The Nutcracker. Barbara has also performed with the Michigan Opera Theatre in La Traviata and Die Fiedurmaus.

Barbara has studied under many renowned teachers including: Meredith Baylis, Paul Sanasardo, Joe Tremaine, and Gus Giordano, and continues her dance education each summer in Chicago at the Chicago Dance Connection. Barbara's influence has reached far beyond the dance studio; her theatre work includes choreographing My Fair Lady, The King and I and Oklahoma.

Barbara has been teaching dance in Farmington since 1976 and opened her own studio there in 1985. The studio has since become a cultural anchor in Farmington. In 1993, Barbara established a performing company to give her dancers more performance opportunities. The company has performed several seasons of its own Nutcracker Ballet.

On October 1, 2014, BHSOD moved to it's beautiful new 5,000 square foot, state of the art, studio in Farmington Hills, where the studio will continue to provide quality dance education in a friendly and nurturing environment. Come Dance With Us!
